New Chief Financial Officer Commences at Jervois

The Jervois Group (“Jervois”) is pleased to advise experienced industry executive Andrew LeBlanc has commenced as its Chief Financial Officer (CFO).

Andrew is a seasoned finance executive with deep experience across global finance, chemicals and engineering roles, supporting multi-billion-dollar businesses, major integrations and strategic transactions. He most recently served as CFO in Seatex LLC, a custom chemical manufacturing business.

Previously, he was CFO of ALTIVIA, a chemical manufacturing company with five plants in the United States, and prior to this, Andrew was with Dow Chemicals Company for more than 20 years. His experience includes executing growth strategies and end-to-end finance solutions while significantly scaling businesses.

Combining deep technical, operational and financial expertise, he brings strong experience in transformation, deal execution and value creation in complex industrial environments.

Andrew holds a Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering and a Master of Science in Finance. He is based in the United States.

Under Andrew’s leadership, Jervois will continue to execute its strategy to operate and develop geopolitically strategic assets, maintaining business relationships with suppliers and vendors and continuing to service customers with a focus on quality and reliability. Jervois’ work with Western governments to secure critical mineral supply chains across vulnerable and strategically important industries will also continue.
